Why study this course

BSc Marketing with Tourism Management course is an academic course grounded firmly in business practice. In your first year you study alongside other business students working on practical business problems and are introduced to the foundation level of Marketing and Tourism Management. At higher levels your study becomes more focused, especially on employment related transferable skills. The course aims to enable you to develop the necessary skills for, and knowledge, practice and understanding of both marketing and the tourism industry. You will become a self-directed, self-regulated reflexive learner, using an awareness of opportunities for careers or further study in the tourism industry.

At the conclusion of this course you will be a career-ready pre-professional, ready to start work as a marketing practitioner in the tourism industry equipped with practical management tools to manage tourism in complex times.

You will have acquired not just knowledge and understanding of contemporary marketing practice, such as interactive marketing management, digital communications strategy and marketing in a global context, but also empathy and sensitivity surrounding the challenges facing international tourism. These include rapid growth, emergence of new destinations, climate change and the ethics of managing a business in which the prime attractions include the natural environment and people's culture.

Educational Aims

Marketing is a dynamic subject that is central to all our lives in the 21st Century embracing varying aspects of psychology, consumer behaviour, management, innovation, sociology and popular culture. Combining the knowledge and developments of marketing with tourism management provides a particular industry focus with good employment opportunities across a range of roles in both marketing and tourism management e.g. Hospitality industry, Business and conference organisers, Tourism officer, Tourist information centre manager.

Your course aims to provide numerous opportunities for you to engage with real marketing and tourism projects and real practitioners, therefore encouraging you to make the links between your studies and practice. To do this, you will be equipped with a range of skills to apply to contemporary cases that challenge your creativity, knowledge accumulation and intelligence. It is expected that you will evaluate different perspectives to inspect global political, economic, social, technological, legal, ecological and business environments. The Professional Practice year is central to advancing your knowledge and experience of inter-cultural settings in the UK or abroad.

You will experience our innovative approach to learning from acquiring foundation business knowledge, operations and skills, creatively applying those skills to solve marketing and tourism problems, and developing employability and professional skills which prepare you for the work place.

Graduate Impact Statements

The course has been designed to develop graduates who are able to:

- Apply subject knowledge and understanding and use specific technical skills: you can offer an employer the understanding of how to tackle marketing problems within the global tourism industries.
- Work in ways important in the field of practice: you should be able to collaborate effectively with people from diverse cultures, disciplines and contexts which is the basis of the marketing and international tourism industry.
- Demonstrate enterprise: You should show inventiveness and originality when solving problems and create new opportunities to advance working practices in marketing and the international tourism industry.

Course Learning Outcomes

On graduating with an honours degree in Marketing with Tourism Management you will be able to:

LO1: Demonstrate a wide understanding of the concepts and characteristics of marketing and tourism management, the detailed relationships between these and their application and importance in an integrated framework.

LO2: Consistently demonstrate a command of marketing and tourism management skills including application of knowledge, as well as a proficiency in intellectual skills.

LO3: Critically investigate a situation collecting and evaluating information, sourcing and analysing data in order to assess options and make recommendations.

LO4: Investigate the relationships between marketing, tourism and the global communities and environments in which it takes place and to critically evaluate problems that may arise in a crisis.

LO5: Demonstrate a clear sense of 'a personal, career-related brand' based on learner-owned self-development planning which is stimulated by practice-orientation and employability.

LO6: Evaluate the nature, contribution and impacts of tourism in social, economic, environmental, political, cultural and other terms within the tourism industry central to international tourism management.

For courses with a Professional Practice Year route, you will be able to

- Demonstrate knowledge and analytical understanding of professional practice by successfully completing an approved period of approved work place practice.

PSRB details

The course has been mapped and accredited by the Chartered Institute of Marketing (CIM). The CIM is the leading professional body for marketers worldwide and exists to develop the marketing profession, maintain professional standards and improve the skills of marketing practitioners. University of Bedfordshire has joined forces with CIM to give students the opportunity to gain professional qualifications through CIM Graduate Gateway:

As an undergraduate, you are entitled to access CIM qualifications within three years of graduation through the Graduate Gateway on condition that you pass with a 2:2 qualification or more.

Upon graduation, you qualify for exemptions on at least one CIM course as follows;

- Exemption from Level 4 Marketing to obtain a Certificate in Professional Marketing
- Exemption from Level 6 Strategic Marketing to obtain a Diploma in Professional Marketing

CIM qualifications are highly sought after by employers, and map alongside our own degrees which ensures we are equipping you with the best opportunities for a successful marketing career.

Learning and Teaching

The learning and teaching you will experience expresses the Business School's commitment to practice-based education. In the first year, you will experience frontal lectures, seminars and workshops that will give you the opportunity to learn in a high qualified environment, where teachers are experts in their subject area. In the following year, you will creatively participate in the class by proposing and shaping the contents that are delivered. Teaching is based on a constant dialogue between students and teachers providing up-to-date appraisals of how you are progressing along the learning process, challenging you, dispensing commendation where subject mastery is evident and encouragement in areas you will need to improve. Fieldwork, external visits, group work and presentations by guest speakers will enable you to apply your theoretical knowledge by focusing more on developing your practical skills. Further, you will solve concrete business problems, analyse real world case study and work on field projects.

This course will use various learning approaches, most importantly, the blended learning approach combining face-to-face interactions with online collaborative activities. The balance between classroom activities and digitally enabled activities provides flexibility and would enable you to develop self-directed learning skills and digital literacies. Outside the classroom, you are expected to actively engage in guided and independent learning according to the summary of learning hours indicated for each unit on the course.

In addition, you will be helped in your studies by a mentoring scheme called PAL – Peer Assisted Learning – in which students from years above you will provide some guidance in study techniques. Volunteering to be a PAL leader yourself is a good way of embedding your skills into your everyday practice of marketing communications.

As you progress through the course, you will master the skill to reflect on your own learning experience in order to equip you for life-long learning and embark on your working career as a career-ready professional.

Assessment

The assessment strategy supports the course's focus on being an independent learner and employability.

Your subject knowledge and key skills such as team work, communication, information literacy, research and evaluation, creativity and critical thinking are tested throughout the course using various relevant assessments to meet the learning outcomes as well as your different learning styles. The key subject themes increase in intensity as you progress to the next level and then to the final year, allowing you to build on previous knowledge. The assessments are therefore designed to support you to work both in a team and independently. The assessments reflect incremental learning as well as focus on being a confident independent learner by providing more group work opportunities at the start of your course to build your team skills and engagement, and progresses to more individual and guided assessments to challenge you academically and professionally. The variations of assessments you will engage with ensures that you accumulate all the skills necessary to interact efficiently within the world of marketing and tourism management.

For all assessments, you will have an assignment brief which clearly sets out requirements and the criteria for grading your work; this develops your understanding of the assessment standards and what is needed to do well at a task.

You will receive feedback on all your assessments to enable you to improve your learning. It is important that you use this feedback accordingly to maximise your performance on future assignments and to buttress your learning.

Developing your employability

The course aims to develop your employability by involving you in the application of concepts in industry-related scenarios and practice-based experiences. In this way, you will develop and apply the skills necessary to work in the international tourism industry. The distinctiveness of the course is reflected in the practice-based employability initiatives of the Business School, such as the practice weeks: you will be trained on attributes and behaviours that employers wish to see in their graduate recruits such as confidence, negotiation, time management, team work and planning. Each year of study makes use of practice-based learning (e.g. case studies drawn from industry and real life briefs put together by marketing and tourism practitioners) and you will develop specific skills and capabilities related to marketing and tourism management. You will also experience inputs by ex-alumni, managers, through visits and guest lectures, enabling you to create your own professional expertise for future job opportunities. In your final year of study you will be able to expand upon your career aspirations by conducting an in depth research project in your area of interest.

Students who register for the degree with professional practice year will additionally attend a series of workshops and activities related to securing a suitable placement and compulsory briefings at the end of year 2 to ensure that all legal requirements for health and safety, safeguarding etc. training have been met,. This will be explained more fully in your professional practice handbook once you have registered with the Careers and Employability Service's Student Development and Awards Team in your first year. If you will be working with children and/or vulnerable people you will be required to have a DBS check and undertake Safeguarding and Prevent training.

After Graduation

On completing this course you are likely to progress into employment in role such as:

Hospitality industry marketing

Business and conference organization and marketing

Theme park marketing manager

Tour marketing manager

Tourism/marketing officer

Tourist information centre marketing manager

Travel agency marketing manager

Additional Information

Students starting in February will be taught through the summer (semester three) allowing them to progress to the 2nd year in September.

Peer Assisted Learning (PAL) will be timetabled in Year one. The PAL scheme at University of Bedfordshire is based upon 2nd/3rd year students (PAL Leaders) working in pairs or trios, to facilitate friendly, weekly PAL sessions with first year students. PAL is intended to help new first year students:

- Adjust quickly to university life
- Make friends and connections
- Create an informal learning community for student scholars
- Acquire a clear view of course direction and expectations
- Improve your study skills/adjust their study habits to meet the requirements of higher education
- Enhance your understanding of the subject matter of your course through collaborative group discussion
- Prepare better for assessed work and exams

Student Support during the course

We adopt a business-style approach to supporting your academic development and want you to be a strong independent learner, taking responsibility for your own success within the world of marketing.

To help you do that the Business Systems & Operations department will provide a wide range of support which you can call on to help with academic issues and with personal challenges which can affect any of us at certain times in our lives.

The following links provide access to the University of Bedfordshire's student support services:

Subject Benchmark Statement(s)	QAA subject benchmarks statements: business and management (2015)	Evidence and/or Course Learning Outcome(s) How the course takes account of relevant subject benchmark statements
3.1 There is an expectation that degree programmes covered by this Subject Benchmark Statement should provide a broad, analytical and highly integrated study of business and management.		Learning outcomes 1, 2,3,4,5,6
3.2 Graduates should be able to demonstrate relevant knowledge and understanding of organisations, the business environment in which they operate and their management. Programmes emphasise understanding, responding and shaping the dynamic and changing nature of business and the consideration of the future of organisations within the global business environment, including the management of risk.		Learning outcomes 1, 2, 3 and 6.
3.3 The interrelationships among and the integration between these areas are very important within the overall student learning experience, and should be demonstrated in the capabilities of successful graduates from all modes of delivery.		Learning outcomes 1, 5 and 6.
3.4 Organisations: this encompasses the internal aspects, functions and processes of organisations including their diverse nature, purposes, structures, size/scale, governance, operations and management, together with the individual and corporate behaviours and cultures which exist within and between different organisations and their influence upon the external environment.		Learning outcomes 1, 3, 4, 5 and 6.
3.5 The business environment: this encompasses the fast pace of change within a wide range of factors, including economic, environmental, cultural, ethical, legal and regulatory, political, sociological, digital and technological, together with their effects at local, national and global levels upon the strategy, behaviour, management and sustainability of organisations.		Learning outcomes 2, 3 and 4.
3.6 Management: this encompasses the various processes, procedures and practices for effective management of organisations. It includes theories, models, frameworks, tasks and roles of management, including the management of people and corporate social responsibility, together with rational analysis and other processes of decision making within different organisations.		Learning outcomes 1, 2, 5 and 6.
3.8 Business and management degrees are strongly related to practice and therefore provide a clear link between the development of relevant skills and employability of graduates.		Learning outcomes 5 and 6.
3.9 Graduates should be able to demonstrate a range of cognitive and intellectual skills together with competencies specific to business and management. Graduates should also be able to demonstrate relevant personal and interpersonal skills. These include both subject-specific and generic skills.		Learning outcomes 1,2,3,4 5 and 6.

Yearlong delivery	OCT (TY)	FEB (FY)
Other (outside of agreed patterns)²

A list of valid available period codes can be found on the intranet at <https://in.beds.ac.uk/registry/student-records/srs-training-and-development/sits>. Please refer to this when completing the diet sheet below. If your diets differ year to year e.g. SET A, SET B, please indicate clearly the academic year and set applicable.

If your diet includes units which have not yet been assigned codes, please ensure this is clear by using NEW in the unit code column, followed by the correct prefix to be used e.g. ASS. Student Records will then assign a new unit code. Please note that a change in the credit value of an existing unit will require a new unit code to be created.

² Where you are proposing a teaching pattern outside of the University agreed patterns, you should provide a mapping document for the course against the University standard patterns of assessment points, exam boards, terms dates and breaks
